Chapter Chair's message:

Happy New Year! We're off and running (or flying) to new adventures already! Check out the calendar for activities you would like to be involved in, and stay tuned for more to come.

Andrea and I are winding down on four years as Vice Chair and Chapter Chair. Who wants to step up and lead this great group? It's a wonderful opportunity to practice leadership skills, and it will look good on your resume! I will always be around to help and advise, and there are lots of good resources on the International 99s website and through other past officers. Contact Marilyn Emery or Marian Jensen if you are interested at emery98166@aol.com or marianjensen@skynetbb.com.

Two, well three, events are coming up that we need your help promoting: Sharpie, NWACTS, and FCS. Don't know what those are? See the calendar below for details.

Happy flying!
Theresa White

News and Updates:

- Welcome new members Abigail Wells and Jasmine Kling. Both are student pilots. Abigail lives in the Bellevue area and is training at Harvey Field. Jasmine lives near Tacoma and is training at Thun Field. And welcome returning member Dava McNutt who flies out of Port Angeles. We're happy to have you all join us!
- Marian Hartley – As you know, Marian passed away Dec. 9. Here's the latest:
 - Her memorial service will be Saturday, February 2nd at 1 pm
Prince of Peace Lutheran Church
19030 8th Ave. S.
Seatac, WA
 - See Karlene Pettitt's blogspot for a nice memorial with comments and pictures at:
<http://karlenepettitt.blogspot.com/2019/01/marian-hartley.html>
 - Her 99s memorial obituary is now on New Horizons on the International website at:
<https://www.ninety-nines.org/new-horizons.htm>

- Several members who knew Marian well have decided to honor her and her late husband, Dan, in the Forest of Friendship. The fee is $450, and we are accepting donations to cover the cost. If donations exceed $450, the balance will go to our chapter scholarship. If you would like to donate, please send a check, payable to the Greater Seattle 99s and indicate it is for Marian Hartley, to our Treasurer:
 Bev Fogle
 6533 Seaview Ave NW, Apt 403A
 Seattle WA 98117-6049
- Forest of Friendship Celebration ceremony will be September 20-21 in Atchison, Kansas. More details will be shared later.

Hangar Talk

We had a great time at our lunch with Liz last Sunday! Thank you Liz Lundin for hosting us again. And thanks to all who came. It was great connecting or reconnecting with fellow 99s! Here's the group:

McKenna Secrist: I am doing well! I'm mostly just busy with school right now, applying to universities and looking for a job.

I did a few paid balloon flights for Eliav's company, Seattle Ballooning, and have been fun flying and training my first student! Only a few flights in Nov/Dec though.

I'm currently looking forward to flying my balloon in Winthrop in March.

Jasmine Kling: I'm Jasmine (new member). I am a student pilot working on the cross country portion currently for the PPL in Pierce County. I'm 24, work full-time and take lessons. Flying feels right. I can see this as a career that supports everyday happiness. Truthfully, I've been on this search for a sense of fulfillment. I call it the mid-20's crisis. Aviation provides that fulfillment in many ways. For hobbies, I'm a pretty generic PNW gal. I hike, travel, take pictures and spend time with family when I'm not working, studying or flying. I've grown up here in the Pacific Northwest and still always have somewhere and something new to experience. I'm glad I am able to stay local and pursue another ambition. Thanks for the warm welcome into the 99's community!

Beverly Franklet: This month my news doesn't include much in the way of personal flying; just a lot of long distance commercial flying. I have just returned from a month in New Zealand. Getting back into the U.S. in San Francisco was a pain because of the government shut down. I finally got to SEATAC, but my luggage didn't. After taking the Airporter Shuttle to BLI, my friend who was flying over to get me couldn't because of the high wind. This kind friend drove to BLI to get me. After being up for 2 days and 2 nights, I fell sound asleep in the car. My plane has been in Walla Walla and I'm going over to get it in about 2 days. Finally some personal flying! Happy New Year to all, Beverly Chrissy Ellsworth: My name is Chrissy and I live in Bellingham with my husband and our three kids. I'm 34 and the first one in my family to take up flying.

I joined the 99s this summer but was unable to introduce myself because my sister-in-law whom I was very close to had a heart palpitation and went into a coma. She died at the end of September and in October my mother found out her cancer came back and that it is terminal. Sadly this next chapter meeting I will be out of state visiting my mom. It's been a very difficult year and I have not been an active member like I wanted to.

Last May my friend took me up in his plane one day and had me get in the pilot seat and guided me through a takeoff and landing. I was hooked and have desperately trying to figure out how to pay for lessons.

My husband works at a tribal college and is a freelance writer, and I teach art at a preschool and do graphic design at night.

Both these jobs are very low paying so I have been looking for a career change and I want to fly.

Flying feels both relaxing and exhilarating. I really enjoy landings and trying different planes. Most of the time I have been flying a 140 tailwheel.

My pilot friend/teacher is moving to Hawaii, and I would like to meet 99 members nearby. Thank you.
